Dear Parents and Caregivers,

Volunteer Wanted

We would like someone to sit with children and help them learn to use the mouse and keyboard. If you can volunteer some time to do this please see Beck.

Thank you to Alison, Jocelyn, Connie and Lindley who come in each week and volunteer their time. It is much appreciated.

Due Now

Fees are now due.

Easter Raffle tickets and donations are also due now.

Curriculum

Our program will be displayed in the Centre and on the website if you want to look at it in more depth. We use the castle to show the different levels of our program.

The castle represents the lifelong skills we are developing: Developmental Learning Outcomes.

The walls represent the learning area of them; key learning components.

The bricks represent the activities we plan for the learning.

"You are unable to build a wall or castle without the bricks".

Quality Improvement Plan

Staff used the Student Free Day last Thursday to evaluate the current centre learning needs and to plan for the future. We have developed a 1 page brief outline of the improvement priorities, and also the 36 page document required by ACECQA (The Australian Children’s Education and Care Quality Authority). This goes into the details of the centre, strengths and improvement area in more depth. I have attached the one page document.

We have practised the Invacuation this week. This procedure is used when there is danger outside such as a snake or an angry person. We talked to the children about the importance of practising this in case we need to do it one day, so we knew how to keep ourselves safe.

The Kindy will be visiting the hospital residents on Tuesday morning, March 26th. The children will be showing the residents some Easter songs we are learning. The hospital also have a small Easter egg hunt for them and a drink. Consent forms are not needed, as a local walks consent is included on the enrolment form. Please see Loretta or Beck if you have any questions.
The end of term jobs will be displayed next week. We really appreciate it if you can help with a job so the Centre is clean and tidy for next term. Some jobs can be taken home and some can be done over the next few weeks.

Regards
Loretta and Beck
